

INSIDE THE TANK

CELEBRATING FIVE YEARS OF IMPACT

This August, Impact Tank celebrated five years of creating change and building purpose-driven ventures across Namibia.

As we mark this milestone, we're reminded that this is only the beginning. The next five years will be defined by deeper impact, greater innovation, and stronger partnerships that move Namibia forward.

Code Blossom x Impact Tank: Empowering Women in Tech

In a first-of-its-kind event in Namibia, Impact Tank partnered with Code Blossom to host an Open Day in Windhoek. Attendees learned about Code Blossom's upcoming pilot program in Namibia.

Label Ladder: Celebrating Digital Skills

Congratulations to our Label Ladder data annotators, who recently received their certificates of completion! Label Ladder continues to equip young people with the skills needed to participate in the future of work.

AquaNam: Innovation in Agriculture

Our sustainable agriculture venture, AquaNam, continues to make strides in transforming how communities grow food. Recently, we installed both a Hydroponics system (500 holes) and an Aquaponics system (500 holes) at Gumunder Lodge, enabling fresh produce to be harvested directly from the garden.

A group of children wearing white hats with the 'Little Sprouts & friends' logo are holding up colorful books. In the background, a large banner for 'little Sprouts & friends' is visible, featuring the text 'An Impact Tank Project' and 'What we do: Garden learning labs, Media & play-based learning, Community empowerment'. Below this, it says 'How we make impact:' followed by three circular icons: 'Guiding early childhood learning', 'Addressing food insecurity and poor nutrition', and 'Enhancing early childhood learning'.

LITTLE SPROUTS: GROWING FROM THE GROUND UP

We're proud to announce the official launch of Little Sprouts, our early childhood development and nutrition initiative. Little Sprouts brings life to schools and communities through sustainable gardens that teach children where their food comes from and how to care for the environment.

A group of seven people, including children and adults, are standing in front of a white wall. One person is holding a banner that says 'MINDFUL MAESTROS An Impact Tank Project'. The banner also mentions 'Mindful Maestros uses the power of art to foster creative expression to empower, educate and inspire social change by providing a safe space for exploration and imagination'.

Mindful Maestros: Creativity Meets Mindfulness

Our creative wellness venture, Mindful Maestros, has launched the second cohort of its program, introducing participants to the world of 3D Art in partnership with Tabico Holdings.
